

Karratha Step Up/Step Down Service

Consultation Session

Join us for a cuppa and a yarn.

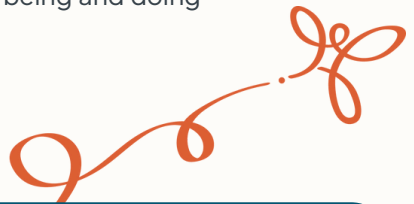

We're bringing together the local community and service providers to talk about what a culturally safe Karratha Step Up/Step Down service would look like. We're exploring the Karratha Step Up/Step Down service model – a community-based residential mental health service – and how it could work in the Pilbara region.

Let's work together on:

- Referrals and exit pathways: Designing flexible pathways for people to access and exit the service
- Supporting strong transitions: Helping people move between services with care and understanding
- Creating a culturally safe space: One that respects and reflects First Nations Peoples' ways of knowing, being and doing

Your voice matters!

Come share your ideas, local knowledge, and what's important to you.

For session times see information on the back

The service will be operated by Richmind WA with support from the WA Country Health Service and Hope Community Services
